

Turkish Archives of Otorhinolaryngology

Türk Otorinolarengoloji Arşivi

Editorial

Dear Colleagues,

In the first issue of 2015, with the journal's new title "Turkish Archives of Otorhinolaryngology", we present you our new Editorial Board consisting of my dear colleagues Prof. Cem Bilgen and Prof. Turgut Karlıdağ. First of all, in the name of our community, we would like to thank Assoc. Prof. Ayşenur Meriç Hafız and Assoc. Prof. Nilda Süslü, who have completed their duty period, for their contribution of great importance and endeavor to the Turkish Archives of Otorhinolaryngology.

With the intense efforts of our previous Editorial Board, besides some international indexes, our journal has also started to be indexed in TÜBİTAK ULAKBİM TR Index and the first steps for Pubmed Central have been taken. As the new Editorial Board, our first aim is to be able to have the Turkish Archives of Otorhinolaryngology indexed by PubMed Central by completing the initiated attempts.

In this issue, we believe that the historical article prepared by Prof. Yücel Tanyeri will be read with interest. As you will see in this article, Turkish Archives of Otorhinolaryngology is the oldest and long-established journal of our branch in Turkey. In order to make our journal, which is also the official scientific media organ of the Turkish Otorhinolaryngology Head and Neck Surgery Society, known in the international arena, we expect you, our dear colleagues, to support us either in authorship or in refereeing and we express our gratitude.

In the name of Editorial Board,
Prof. Taner Kemal Erdağ
